[illegible]

A dark, vertical, rectangular object, possibly a book cover or a piece of paper, with a lighter, textured edge on the left side. The object is oriented vertically and occupies most of the frame. The left edge shows a lighter, possibly metallic or plastic, binding or hinge. The main body is dark and appears to have a slightly grainy texture. There are some faint, indistinct markings or reflections on the surface, but no legible text or clear features are visible.
